For a Healthy Vascular System

Our circulatory system faces more than just mechanical strain. Our blood is filled with molecules that can damage the vascular system – especially free radicals, which attack the cell walls by stealing electrons, as well as homocysteine and oxidized LDL (“bad” cholesterol) with similar destructive effects. These substances cause ongoing, subtle inflammation of the vessel walls, leading to scarring and narrowing of the arteries over time.

ArterioPro provides the essential building blocks to help protect blood vessels from such damage and to support repair where inflammation has already occurred. In particular, its combination with vitamin K2 helps redirect hardening calcium away from the arteries and back into the bones – where it strengthens the skeleton while restoring flexibility and resilience to the blood vessels.
